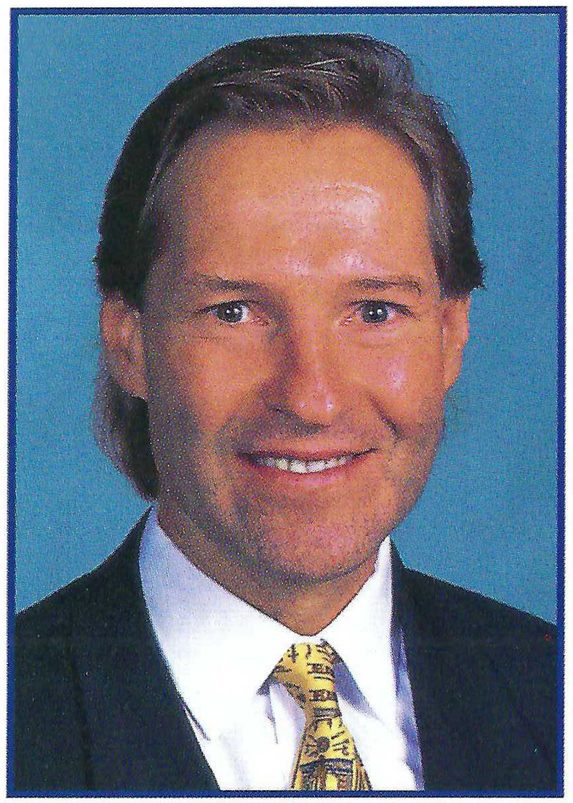
Dr. Greenwood is a director and member of the Executive Committee of Signal Apparel Co., Inc. and a director of Boca Bancorp, Inc. in Boca Raton, FL. He lives in Westchester with his wife, Robin.

DON MALONEY



GENERAL MANAGER

There's no one more determined to restore the Islanders to prominence than Don Maloney.

The fourth-year general manager has moved swiftly and decisively to build a unit that plays with pride, smarts and toughness game in and game out.

"I want us to compete physically and stick up for one another," Maloney said at the conclusion of the 1994-95 season. "In our own building when people come in and challenge us, I don't ever want to see us not respond."

A significant step towards reaching that goal was the hiring of head coach Mike Milbury July 5. "Mike is a fierce competitor. He was as a player and he had tremendous success as the coach with the Boston Bruins," said Maloney. "I think Mike has the combination of people skills, motivational tools and hockey savvy - the complete package - to make him one of the most complete coaches in the game."

Maloney began dramatically changing the face and personality of the Islanders Apr. 5 when he engineered the blockbuster trade bringing centers Kirk Muller and Craig Darby and defenseman Mathieu Schneider to Long Island in exchange for Pierre Turgeon and Vladimir Malakhov. The next day he acquired 1994 first round draft choice, goaltender Eric Fichaud from Toronto in exchange for Benoit Hogue and a 1995 third round draft choice and a fifth selection in 1996.

He added size up front when 1993 first round draft pick Todd Bertuzzi agreed to terms with the Islanders at 11:59 PM July 7 — beating the midnight deadline that would have made the 6-3, 222-pound forward available in the next day's draft.

With the second overall pick in the 1995 Entry Draft Maloney chose defenseman Wade Redden — bolstering an already impressive defensive corps that includes Scott Lachance, 1993 second round choice Bryan McCabe and Schneider.

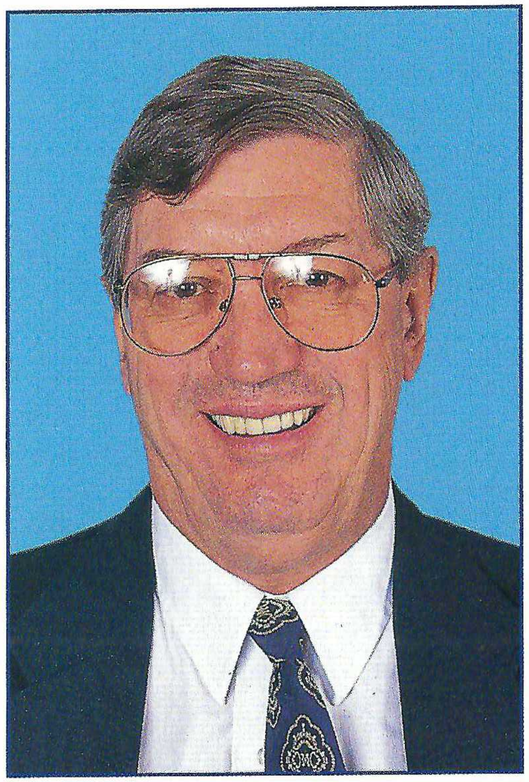
Prior to the 1994-95 season Maloney abandoned a patient approach that had seen him resist breaking up the 1992-93 semifinalists in an effort to get to the next level.

He traded up in the first round of the Entry Draft to land rugged forward Brett Lindros, the vanguard of a bigger, tougher Islanders team.

He solidified his goaltending by signing 1993 fifth round draft selection and 1994 Swedish Olympic gold-medal winner Tommy Salo and acquiring Tommy Soderstrom from Philadelphia in exchange for Ron Hextall. Maloney, 37, has grown into the position he took Aug. 17, 1992 - having the courage to make moves that insure the long-term success of the franchise.

Maloney retired as a player in January of 1991 and spent two years under the tutelage of Bill Torrey, the Islanders' only other GM. A gritty and determined forward, Maloney appeared in 765 NHL games with three teams (Rangers, Hartford and Islanders). He scored 214 goals and 350 assists for 564 points with 815 penalty minutes. Maloney was the MVP on the 1984 Wales Conference All-Star team (1-3-4).

AL ARBOUR



VICE PRESIDENT OF HOCKEY OPERATIONS

Al Arbour is in his second year as Vice President of Hockey Operations. The Islander legend works closely with Don Maloney and Darcy Regier monitoring the development of players in the club's system, offering insight on future draft choices and lending his 38 years of NHL experience to all the key hockey decisions.

The driving force behind the Islanders bench for 19 of the team's 23 seasons, Arbour stepped down as head coach June 1, 1994. The future Hall of Famer left the coaching ranks as the NHL's all-time leader in games coached (1601) and second only to Detroit's Scott Bowman in career victories (913-779), playoff games coached (244-209), playoff triumphs (152-123) and playoff series victories (33-30).

Arbour stamped his name into history as the architect of the Islander dynasty that captured four consecutive Stanley Cup crowns from 1980-83. He was instrumental in the development and emergence into superstars of Mike Bossy, Denis Potvin, Bill Smith and Bryan Trottier.

He enjoyed one of the more rewarding moments at the end of his illustrious career when he piloted the 1993 Islanders to a stunning seven-game upset over the two-time defending Cup champion Pittsburgh Penguins in the Patrick Division Finals. Arbour had briefly left the bench after the 1985-86 season to serve as Vice President of Player Development before returning Dec. 7, 1988.

As a player, Arbour was a defenseman on four Stanley Cup winners, Detroit (1954), Chicago (1961) and Toronto (1962 and 1964). His involvement in 2,227 games as a player and coach is a record. Red Kelly, a former teammate and winner of eight Stanley Cups as a player, is a distant second.

A native of Sudbury, Ontario, Arbour began his coaching career in 1970 with the St. Louis Blues.

In 1992 he was chosen a member of the American Hockey League's all-time team and won the Lester Patrick Trophy for his outstanding service to hockey in the United States.

Al and his wife Claire reside in Cold Spring Harbor and have four children, Joanne, Jay, Julie and Janice and six grandchildren.

DARCY REGIER

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER/ DIRECTOR OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Darcy Regier enters his fourth season as Don Maloney's trusted aide.

Regier's tireless work ethic and devotion to the franchise saw him add the title of Director of Player Personnel to his duties last season. In his expanded role Regier coordinates the club's scouting staff — supervising a search for talent in Canada, the United States and Europe. To facilitate the process, Regier has implemented a computerized network which has improved scouting reports and communications.

In addition, Regier works closely with Maloney and Al Arbour monitoring the development of the players currently in the Islanders system.

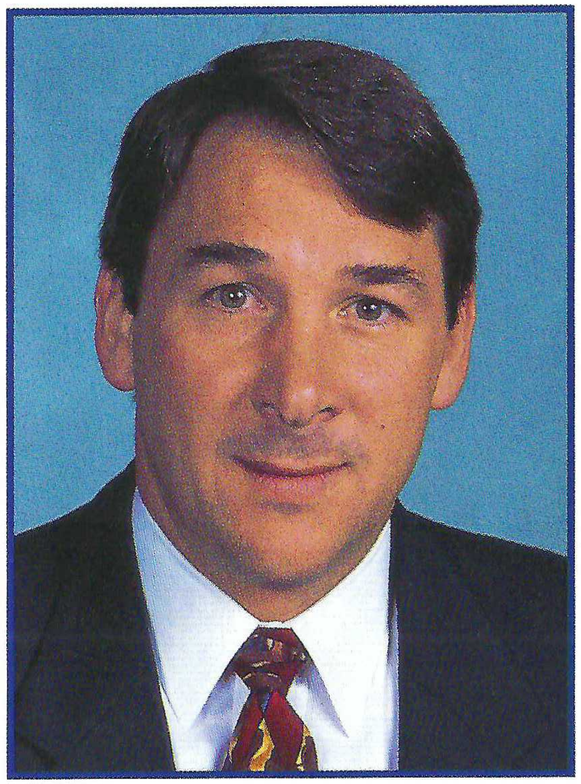
Regier joined the Islander family Jan. 10, 1978 when he was traded with Wayne Merrick by the Cleveland Barons for J.P. Parise and Jean Potvin. He left only for a brief stint in 1991-92 as assistant coach of the Harford Whalers.

A defenseman who toiled predominantly in the Central Hockey League, Regier retired after the 1983-84 season and became the Islanders Director of Administration. The Saskatchewan native served in that capacity until becoming assistant coach to Arbour in December 1988.

Darcy, 39 in November, and his wife Katherine have three sons Jonathan (14), Justin (10) and Jarrett who turns three in November.

MIKE MILBURY

HEAD COACH



The New York Islanders took a bold step toward changing the direction of the franchise when Mike Milbury was named the sixth head coach in team history July 5, 1995.

Milbury, 43, is the perfect man at a perfect time for the Isles. He brings a fiery style that GM Don Maloney hopes will spark a revival of Islander fortunes.

"Mike Milbury has the attitude, work ethic and desire to win that this organization sorely needs behind the bench," Maloney said. "I'm confident he's the person that will make the Islanders a competitive force in the NHL once again."

The announcement of Milbury's hiring was unanimously praised by the media and had Islander fans yearning for the first puck to be dropped. A veteran of 21 National Hockey League seasons, Milbury's enthusiasm for the game has proved contagious throughout his stints as a player, coach, assistant general manager and broadcaster. The new coach seems particularly anxious to play a role in the nurturing of the Islanders' promising young talent.

"I'm looking forward to working with guys like Brett Lindros and Todd Bertuzzi. They are big and strong and fast, the prototype of the '90s. With Mathieu Schneider, Scott Lachance, Darius Kasparaitis and Rich Pilon, plus prospects like Wade Redden and Bryan McCabe, the defense is impressive. Our future in goal is extremely bright. And in Patrick Flatley and Kirk Muller, we have some of the best leaders in the game."

Milbury's impressive resume made him the logical choice to succeed Lorne Henning as the sixth head coach.

During his two years at the helm of the Boston Bruins, the Brighton, MA native was the NHL's most successful coach, posting back-to-back 100-point seasons and Adams Division titles with a 90-49-21 record. He was named the 1989-90 Coach of the Year by The Hockey News and The Sporting News when he led the Bruins to the President's Trophy and a berth in the Stanley Cup Finals.

Milbury was an intense, no-nonsense defenseman for 11-plus seasons in Boston, where he played alongside superstars Bobby Orr, Brad Park and Ray Bourque.

His playing career came to a formal conclusion and a new career began when he took over the coaching reins of the Maine Mariners July 16, 1987. The Mariners captured the AHL Northern Division title his first season there and Milbury was named AHL Coach of the Year and The Hockey News Minor League Coach of the Year.

He became the Bruins head coach and assistant general manager to Harry Sinden May 16, 1989, and remained in the front office of the Bruins until 1994. Last season Milbury served as an in-studio analyst on ESPN.

A multi-sport standout at Walpole High School, Milbury was recruited to play football and hockey at Colgate University. He graduated with a degree in urban sociology and signed as a free agent with the Bruins Nov. 5, 1974. He made an immediate impact on the professional level by compiling 246 penalty minutes in 71 games with Rochester (AHL). Milbury landed in the Bruins record books after his rookie season — his 166 penalty minutes erased the previous team mark of 165 set by Eddie Shore in 1926-27.

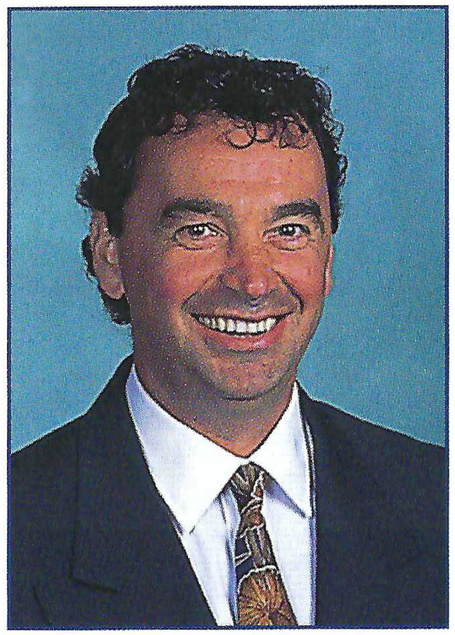
Following the 1975-76 season, Milbury attended a hockey school headed by Bruins coach Don Cherry. One of the game's subtleties that Milbury needed to improve was turning to retrieve pucks in the corner. Cherry was impressed by the 24-year old's approach:

"Sessions started at 8, but every morning at 6:30 Mike's wife Debbie would throw pucks into the corner for him to stop. Debbie was pregnant with their first child, Owen, at the time. Like most Americans, Mike couldn't turn. But he worked and worked at it."

Milbury expects the same attitude from his Islander team. "If a player is working as hard as he can but having an off night, I can be very forgiving," Milbury said. "But if the guy is not in top shape, seems disinterested during meetings and isn't playing hard, I'll be all over him. There isn't any place on my team for someone giving anything less than the maximum."

Mike and Debbie, have two sons, Owen and Luke, and two daughters, Alison and Caitlin. Debbie is also a Colgate alumnus and Owen is entering his freshman year there.

COACHING STAFF



GUY CHARRON
Assistant Coach

Guy Charron brings a wealth of NHL and international experience to the Islanders in his first year as Mike Milbury's right-hand man.

A former center with four different teams (Montreal, Detroit, Kansas City and Washington), Charron comes to Long Island with 10 years of coaching experience — five (1986-87-1989-90) as assistant general manager/assistant coach under Dave King with Hockey Canada and five as an assistant coach with the Calgary Flames under Doug Risebrough (1990-91-Mar. 3, 1992) and King (1992-93-1994-95). His tenure with the Flames also included a stint as the team's interim head coach (Mar. 3, 1992-end of 1991-92 season)

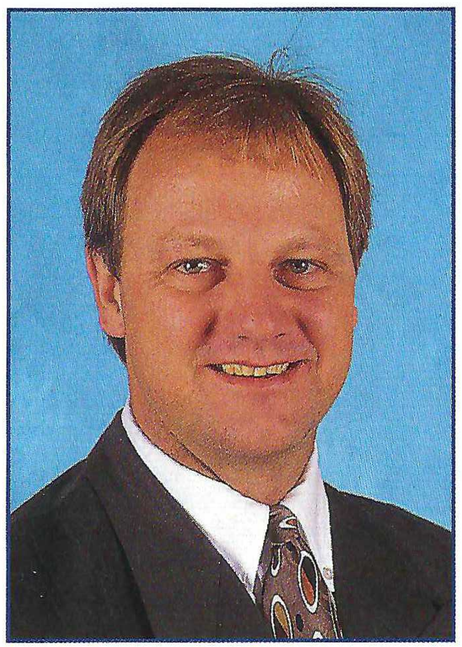
A native of Verdun, Quebec, Charron boasts a long list of accomplishments in the worldwide arena. As a player he represented Canada in three World Championships (1977-79), winning the bronze medal in 1978 and serving as the team's captain in 1979.

Working with King, Charron was an assistant coach at the 1987 and 1989 World Championships, winning a silver medal at the 1989 tournament. In addition, Charron assisted King in four Isvestia tournaments, two Spengler Cups, and the 1988 Winter Olympics in Calgary.

He also served as the head coach for the 1990 Canadian National team which competed at the World Junior Championships in Helsinki, Finland. He led a team which included Eric Lindros, Mike Ricci, Trevor Kidd, Kevin Haller and Patrice Brisebois to the gold medal.

Charron's greatest success as a player came with the Capitals. In five seasons with Washington, he surpassed the 35-goal mark twice (1976-77, 1977-78) and amassed 70 or more points in three consecutive seasons (1976-77 through 1978-79). He retired from the NHL following the 1980-81 season and immediately began his coaching career —becoming a player/assistant with Arosa of the Swiss Hockey League, leading the team to the championship. He returned to North America in 1983 and was the general manager and head coach of the Quebec Remparts of the QMJHL until 1985 when he joined the Canadian National team.

Charron, 46, has a daughter, Renee (19) and a son Erik (14).



BOB FROESE
Goaltending Coach

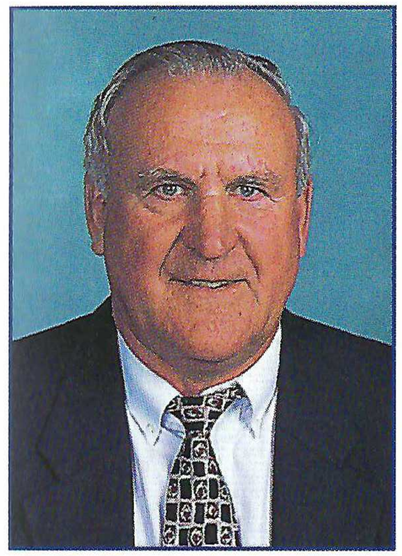
With one of the most impressive collections of young goaltenders in the league, Bob Froese has his work cut out for him. The third-year goaltending coach is responsible for cultivating young netminders Eric Fichaud, Milan Hnilicka and Mark McArthur and contributing to the further development of Jamie McLennan, Tommy Salo and Tommy Soderstrom.

An eight-year NHL veteran who divided his career between the Flyers and Rangers, Froese retired after the 1989-90 season because of a shoulder injury. The Ontario native spent two years as the Rangers' scout/goaltending coach before coming to Long Island in 1993.

Froese enjoyed his greatest success in 1985-86 when he was a member of the Wales Conference All-Star team, was named a Second Team NHL All-Star and was runner-up to John Vanbiesbrouck in voting for the Vezina Trophy.

Bob and his wife Ruth have four sons: Robbie (13), David (11), James (8) and Kurt (5).

SCOUTING STAFF



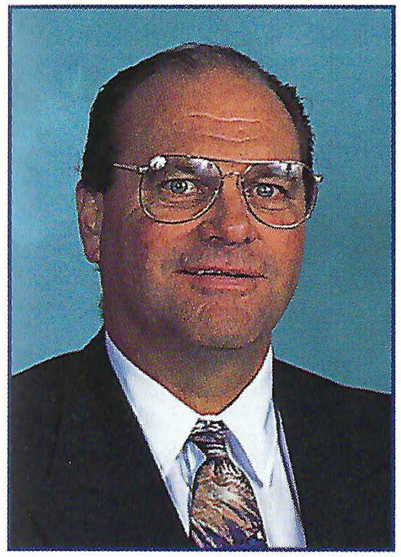
GERRY EHMAN
Assistant to the General Manager

A veteran of twenty-two seasons with the Islanders, Gerry "Tex" Ehman moved into the role of Assistant to the General Manager at the start of last season. Don Maloney seeks Ehman's advice on players the Islanders acquire through both the draft and trades.

In the past, Ehman's expertise has led to the drafting of Travis Green, Bryan McCabe, Marty McInnis, Jamie McLennan and 1993 and '94 first round picks Todd Bertuzzi and Brett Lindros.

A right wing for Boston, Detroit, Toronto and Oakland, Ehman played eight National Hockey League seasons going 96-118-214 in 429 games.

Tex and his wife Lorraine live in Saskatoon and have four children Dale, Bryan, Bruce and Teresa.



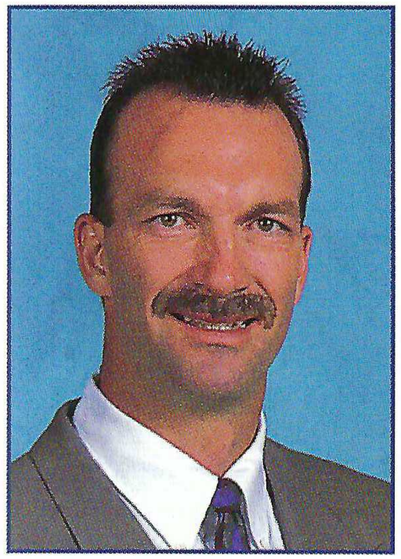
BERT MARSHALL
Director of Amateur Scouting

A member of the Islanders scouting staff for the past 12 seasons, Bert Marshall moved into the role of Director of Amateur Scouting prior to the 1994-95 season. Along with evaluating prospects in the Canadian, U.S. and European amateur ranks, Marshall works closely with Darcy Regier and Don Maloney, targeting players for selection in the annual Entry Draft.

Marshall's association with the Islanders began when he was selected from the Rangers in the 1973 Intra-League draft. The Kamloops native played six years on Long Island, serving as a player/assistant coach to Al Arbour in 1977-78 and 1978-79. Upon retirement, Marshall became the head coach of the Isles Central League affiliate, the Indianapolis Checkers, and guided them through the 1981 season. He was the Director of Player Personnel of the New Jersey Devils for the 1982-83 season.

A former defenseman, Marshall went 17-181-198 with 926 penalty minutes in 868 games. He played 14 seasons with five different teams (Detroit, Oakland, California, Rangers, Islanders).

Bert has one daughter, Dana, and resides in Dearborn, MI.



KEN MORROW
Director of Pro Scouting

Whenever Don Maloney wants to make a deal he turns to Director of Pro Scouting Ken Morrow. Now in his fourth season, Morrow is responsible for evaluating players in the NHL, AHL, IHL and scouting the Islanders opponents.

The only player in NHL history to capture an Olympic Gold Medal and Stanley Cup in the same year, Morrow joined the Isles following the 1980 Miracle on Ice in Lake Placid just in time to begin the Islanders four-year championship reign. In 550 career games, the towering defenseman had 17 goals and 88 assists for 105 points with 309 penalty minutes.

Following his retirement, Morrow became an assistant coach with Flint of the IHL and was named co-coach of the IHL's Kansas City Blades in 1990-91. He gained invaluable experience behind the bench as assistant coach to Al Arbour in 1991-92.

This past September Morrow was inducted into the United States Hockey Hall of Fame in Minnesota.

Ken, 37, and his wife Barbara have two daughters: Krysten Noelle (12) and Brittany (10).

EARL INGARFIELD

Few draft-day selections are made without the input of Earl Ingarfield. A member of the Islanders scouting staff since 1984, Ingarfield spends nine months of the year combing the Canadian junior leagues and U.S. high schools and colleges for future Islanders.

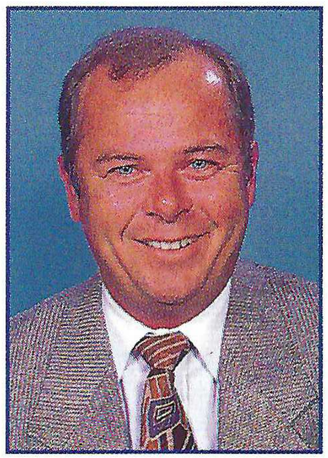
Ingarfield first came to Long Island Jan. 29, 1973 when he took over as head coach from Phil Goyette midway through the team's inaugural season. He guided the fledgling club for 30 games.

A center with four teams (Rangers, Pittsburgh, Oakland and California), Ingarfield played 13 NHL seasons (179-226-405, 746 GP).

Earl and his wife Grace have three children; Earl Jr., Rae Ann and Jean Marie and reside in Lethbridge, Alberta.

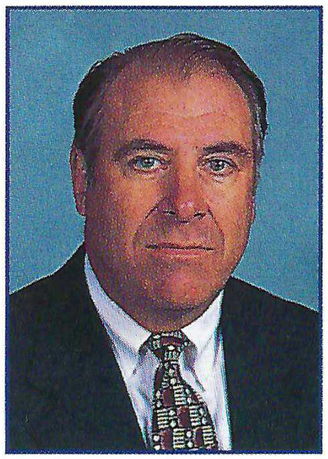
HARRY BOYD

A longtime member of the Islander scouting staff, Harry Boyd has watched numerous OHL players become Islanders. That continues this season with Todd Bertuzzi joining the Isles and former Boyd selections Derek King, Brad Dalgarno and Brett Lindros. In addition, the Isles called on Boyd for the second of their two second round picks - D.J. Smith of Windsor.



FRANK JAY

Helping out in the Ontario area is Frank Jay. A recent addition to the Islanders staff, Jay was a member of the New Jersey Devils scouting staff from 1983-93, where he was hired by Bert Marshall and worked under Marshall Johnston. He spent the 1993-94 season with Quebec. In addition, he was the chief scout for the OHL's Oshawa Generals from 1977-87, helping draft players like Joe Cirella, Steve Konroyd and Dave Andreychuk. In 1989-90, he was the Generals' general manager as the team won the Memorial Cup following a trade for Eric Lindros. He spent 1994-95 with the OHL's Niagara Falls Thunder as a part-owner.

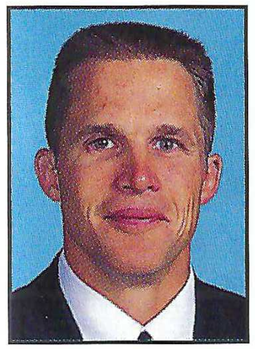


MARSHALL JOHNSTON
Scouting Consultant

A recent addition to the scouting staff, Marshall Johnston will oversee the Islanders scouting effort in the United States and evaluate talent in the Canadian Junior Leagues. He comes to the Islanders with over 14 years of NHL experience — 12 with the Devils' franchise, including 11 years as the team's Director of Player Development, and the last two seasons as the head of CIPRO, the scouting combine utilized by Hartford, Dallas, Philadelphia and Winnipeg.

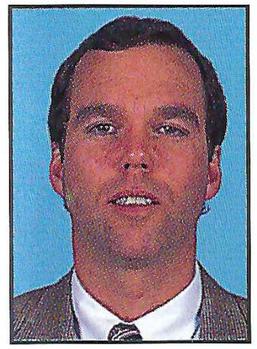
JIM MADIGAN

Jim Madigan enters his third season of scouting high school and college prospects in New England. An alumnus of Northeastern University, Madigan played his college hockey for the Huskies before becoming their assistant coach from 1986-93. Madigan competed in the NCAA Final Four his freshman year at the same time as one of his junior teammates: Wisconsin's Patrick Flatley.



CHRIS PRYOR

Former Islander player Chris Pryor helps the Islanders in the area of player development, as well as scouting the western U.S. A nutrition specialist, Pryor makes sure the Islanders' prospects are following a proper diet and health care program. He recorded 51 penalty minutes in 18 games with the Isles from 1988-90, and in 82 NHL games with Minnesota and the Islanders, he went 1-4-5 with 122 PIM.



MARIO SARACENO

Since 1979, Mario Saraceno has searched the QMJHL, OHL and eastern United States for future Islanders. Mario's father, Harry, was a member of the Islanders' original scouting staff, covering the same regions until he passed away. His work led to the Isles' drafting of Mike Bossy in 1977.

EUROPE

The Islanders utilize the services of Falu Ishockey Scouting Service. Based in Sweden, Falu is responsible for surveying all prospects in Europe. The Islanders also get help from Bo Karlsson in Sweden, Hanni Rindell in Finland, Karel Pavrlik in the Czech Republic and Slovakia and Leonid Reizer in Russia.

TRAINERS

ED TYBURSKI — Athletic Trainer

For the sixth season, the Islanders' medical trainer will be Ed Tyburski.

The Agawam, Massachusetts native is responsible for administering to player injuries and serving as a liaison between the team's doctors and the players and hockey staff.

Tyburski is a 1979 graduate of Springfield College with a degree in health education. Following a stint with the Hartford Whalers and their AHL affiliate in Binghamton, he joined the Islanders' AHL affiliate in Springfield. There, he worked closely with current Islanders Dean Chynoweth and Derek King, as well as Chris Pryor. He was part of the Indians' Calder Cup triumph in 1990 before coming to the Isles at the start of the 1990-91 season.

Ed is single and returns to Springfield during the offseason.

JOHN DOOLAN — Equipment Manager

A veteran of over two decades in professional hockey, John Doolan enters his sixth year with the Islanders as the team's equipment manager.

The Kingston, Ontario native is responsible for ordering supplies and overseeing uniform and equipment needs for the players. In addition, he also coordinates the team's travel on the road.

Doolan began in hockey in 1970 with Pittsburgh, spending 14 years with the Penguins including stops in Kitchener (OHA), Lansing (IHL) and Erie (NAHL). He also spent three years in orthopedic sales with 3M before joining the Isles in 1990.

"Dools," who also serves as the secretary-treasurer for the Professional Hockey Athletic Trainers society, will be honored in 1997 by serving on the training staff of the Eastern Conference All-Star team in San Jose.

John, 43, and his wife, Joan, have three children, Casey (16), Sean (13) and Brendan (11). They reside year-round in Smithtown.

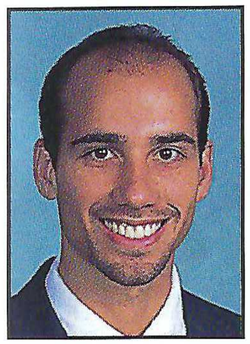
JERRY IANNARELLI — Assistant Trainer

Jerry Iannarelli returns for his sixth season as assistant trainer, lending his support to Ed Tyburski and John Doolan and attending to individual player needs.

Iannarelli joined the Islanders following his 1984 graduation from St. John's. He left the team after the 1986-87 season to become athletic director of Holy Trinity High School in Hicksville, a position he held until returning to the Isles for the 1992-93 season.

A native of Queens, Iannarelli recently tested for National Athletic Training Association certification. In between classes at Queens College, he was a regular on the Islander softball team.

Jerry and his wife Tracey, a teacher in the Carle Place school district, live in Northport.



JOE McMAHON — Assistant Equipment Manager

Long Island native Joe McMahon enters his 12th year on the Islander training staff.

McMahon is responsible for helping the players with their equipment, assisting the visiting team's trainers and making sure everything runs smoothly in the Isles' locker room. During the summer, the Hofstra graduate is a member of the New York Jets' training staff.

Joe and his wife Dorothy, a nurse at Stony Brook University Hospital, reside in Islandia.

CAREER TRANSACTION: Selected by the Islanders in the first round (fifth overall) of the 1992 Entry Draft. Position was acquired by draft day trade. Islanders exchanged their first round selection (eighth overall, Brandon Convery) and their second round pick (32nd overall which was traded to Washington-Jim Carey) for the Toronto Maple Leafs' first round selection.

1994-95: Struggled in team's first five games of the season but reestablished himself as one of the game's most infuriating players by the end of January...Clean, hard checks helped throw the Lightning's Jim Cummins off his game and earn the Isles seven power play opportunities at Tampa Bay Feb. 7...Named third star of the game Feb. 11 vs. Buffalo as successive hits to Buffalo's Jason Dawe and Dave Hannan helped distract the Sabres in the Isles' 2-1 victory...Tore the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee at Montreal Feb. 20...Underwent reconstructive surgery Mar. 3 and missed the rest of the season.

CAREER
1993-94: Started the season slowly but returned to rookie form over the last 60 games and once again was a terror on the ice particularly to top opponents...Non-stop aggressive behavior drove finesse players Valeri Zelepukin (Oct. 16) and two-time Lady Byng Trophy winner Joe Mullen (Dec. 19) to drop their gloves, recording only fighting majors of the season from the Devils and Pittsburgh stars...Drew six minutes in penalties from Mark Messier March 5 vs. the Rangers...Was the New York Islanders/London Jewelers Player of the Month for February as improved play helped Islanders to a 9-4-1 record...Scored only goal of the season Dec. 14 vs. New Jersey (Chris Terreri)...Finished second among Islanders defensemen in games played and third on the team in penalty minutes... Missed two games (Nov. 17-18) with back spasms.

1992-93: Quickly became a force on the Islander blue line...Aggressive style of play incurred the wrath of NHL opponents including superstars Brett Hull, Mario Lemieux, Eric Lindros and Messier...Finished first on the team among rookies in games played and was the Islanders Alka Seltzer plus/minus award winner finishing at +15...Was second on the team in penalty minutes behind Mick Vukota (216)...Served one-game suspension (Nov. 12) for two stick misconducts. Infractions came in games at Boston Oct. 10 and Nov. 7 vs. Tampa Bay...Missed two games with back spasms (Feb.13-16) and the last game of the season with a lower back strain.

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFF CAREER: Played in all 18 contests in 1993... Tied Benoit Hogue for third on the team in penalty minutes behind Rich Pilon (50) and Steve Thomas (37)...Earned star of the game in Game Six of PDF vs. Pittsburgh as feisty play drove the Penguins to distraction in Islanders 7-5 victory that forced series to a seventh game...Earned first career playoff point with an assist on Benoit Hogue's shorthanded, game-winning goal vs. Pittsburgh in Game One.

INTERNATIONAL
1991-92: Member of Commonwealth of Independent States team which captured the Gold Medal at 1992 Olympics in Albertville, France...Played in six games for Russian National Team at 1992 World Ice Hockey Championships in Czechoslovakia (2-1-3, 4 PIM)...Helped Dynamo Moscow to second successive championship season.
1989-91: Was first Lithuanian to play in the Russian League in over 30 years...Appeared in one game for Dynamo Moscow at only 17 years of age in 1989-90...Played in two World Junior Championships. Won Silver Medal in 1991 in Saskatoon and Gold Medal in 1992 in Fussen, Germany.

MILESTONES:
NHL debut Oct. 6, 1992 at New Jersey
First NHL goal Oct. 27, 1992 vs. Los Angeles (Kelly Hrudey)
100th NHL game Dec. 2, 1993 at Boston

PERSONAL: Darius and his wife Irina reside year round in Northport. They have two dogs, Sandra and Goofy. Spent part of off-season vacationing in Cypress, Greece and entertaining his parents who visited from Lithuania. Enjoys shopping and watching movies.

CAREER TRANSACTION: Selected by the Islanders in the second round (26th overall) of the 1991 Entry Draft.

1994-95: An opportunist who creates scoring chances every shift...Was in and out of the lineup early on, but play improved each game and came on strong in the latter part of the season...Went 6-5-11 in the final 15 games, including six points (3-3-6) in three games Apr. 24-28...Scored first two goals of career and Islanders' only two goals in team's come-from-behind victory over the Panthers on opening night (Mark Fitzpatrick)...A dazzling stick handler with keen passing skills. Set up Ray Ferraro twice in Isles 4-2 victory at the Rangers Apr. 28...Managed to pry the puck loose with crafty stick work and set up game-winning goal Feb. 28 vs. Montreal...Finished 12th among the league's rookies in goals...Seven of ten goals were scored at Nassau Coliseum...Was named one of the game's "three stars" seven times...Played in less than half of Denver's games and still finished seventh on the Grizzlies in goals and 11th in scoring. His five game-winners were tied for second on the team.

CAREER

1993-94: Started the season with Salt Lake (IHL)...Was recalled Jan. 6 and was one of four rookies to make NHL debut the next night in 6-2 victory vs. Calgary (Jamie McLennan, Dan Plante, Jason Simon)... Returned to Salt Lake Jan. 11 and was assigned to the Slovak National Team, competing at the Olympics in Lillehammer, Norway, Jan. 31. Led all players in the Olympic Tournament in scoring (3-7-10, 8 GP) and was first in assists. St. Louis' Peter Stastny was also a member of the Slovak team...Returned to Salt Lake mid-February and finished third on the Golden Eagles in scoring (Sandy Smith, 60, Derek Armstrong, 58) and second in goals (David Chyzowski, 27) despite appearing in only 57 of the team's 80 games...Two shorthanded tallies led the Golden Eagles in that category...Was recalled Apr. 14 and was unsuccessful that night in the team's only penalty shot attempt of the season at Florida (John Vanbiesbrouck).

INTERNATIONAL

1992-93: Decided to spend season in the Czech Republic after being assigned to Capital District during training camp...Finished first on Dukla Trencin and in the Czech National League in scoring and assists, second in goals...Team finished third in the league.
1991-92: First season with Dukla...Was second on the team in scoring, first in goals...Was fourth in the league in scoring and his 23 assists were tied with two others for second...Team finished first in the Eastern Division and was playoff champion...A shoulder injury prevented him from joining Olympic team.
1990-91: First season in Czechoslovakian National League...Averaged a point a game...Was first on Nitra and seventh in the league in scoring...34 goals was good for third in the league...Was a member of Czechoslovakian junior team which won bronze medal at World Junior Championships in Canada...Went 7-6-13 in seven games and was second on the team in scoring behind Quebec's Martin Rucinsky...Finished seventh in tournament scoring...Was a linemate of Boston's Jozef Stumpel at Nitra and on national junior team.

PERSONAL: Single. Spends off season in Slovakia. A big fan of FOX's "Married with Children." Owns a Cockerspaniel named Andy.

PERSONAL: Single. Spends the offseason in Hayward, Wisconsin. Enjoys lumberjacking and finished seventh in the 1989 World Lumberjack Championships held in Hayward and eighth in 1990. Dan says hobby was great preparation for hockey - "the chopping and sawing built upper-body strength, and log rolling (competitors on opposite ends of a 15-inch diameter floating log try to knock each other into a lake) was excellent for developing balance. When I get bumped on the ice, it's just like standing on the logs." . In 1988 he won the pole-climbing event which requires climbing a 100 ft. tree and coming down as fast as possible. Studied business at the University of Wisconsin.

CAREER TRANSACTIONS: Selected by Montreal in the third round (fourth choice, 44th overall) of the 1987 Entry Draft. Traded to the Islanders along with Kirk Muller and Craig Darby in exchange for Pierre Turgeon and Vladimir Malakhov April 5, 1995.

1994-95: One of the cornerstones of Islanders defensive corps...Excels at both ends of the ice and is a valuable addition to any power play unit...Made Islander debut Apr. 7 at the Rangers and immediately showed offensive capabilities, setting up Bob Beers' power play goal to put the Islanders on the scoreboard at 7:48 of the first period...First goal with the club was the game-winner Apr. 24 vs. the Bruins (Blaine Lacher)...Also tallied the winning goal Apr. 28 at the Rangers (Mike Richter) to tie Steve Thomas for the team lead in that category...Had points in last four games with the Canadiens (2-3-5)... Twice recorded three-point efforts with Montreal this season: Mar. 15 vs. Pittsburgh (2-1-3) and Feb. 18 vs. the Rangers (0-3-3).

CAREER

1993-94: Finished fourth on Montreal in scoring, first among defensemen...Was second on the team in power play and third in game-winning scores...20 goals tied with Los Angeles' Rob Blake for fourth best among league's defensemen...13 of 20 goals were scored on Forum ice...Suffered ankle injury Dec. 6 vs. Vancouver and missed the next two games and sat out five games following arthroscopic elbow surgery Mar. 29.

1992-93: Was Montreal's highest scoring defenseman through first 40 games of the season...Suffered severely sprained right ankle Jan. 27 vs. Hartford and missed the next 24 contests...Returned to the lineup Mar. 18 slightly ahead of schedule...Finished the season second among Montreal's blueliners, just one point behind Eric Desjardins, who played 22 more games.

1991-92: Finished tied for second on the team with Mike McPhee and Muller in games played...Was second on the Canadiens among defensemen in scoring, first in goals...Had a Montreal season-high nine shots Dec. 22 vs. Boston...Tallied the game-winner Jan. 26 at Hartford.

1990-91: The leading scorer among Montreal's defensemen...Was tied (with Shayne Corson) for fourth on the team in shots...Missed nine games (Jan. 27-Feb. 13) with a sprained left ankle.

1989-90: First full professional season...Found a home on Montreal blueline after mid-season call-up from Sherbrooke...Tallied first two-goal game of career Feb. 22 at Quebec, second goal was the game-winner...Had first three-assist effort Mar. 13 at the Islanders.

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFF CAREER: Stretched a ligament in his right knee in Game One of Eastern Conference quarterfinals vs. the Bruins and was limited to only one post season contest in 1993-94...Member of the 1992-93 Stanley Cup-winning Montreal Canadiens...Suffered separated right shoulder in Game One of first round matchup vs. Quebec and was forced to miss the remainder of that series and all of the next round vs. Buffalo...Returned in Game One of Wales Conference Final vs. the Islanders...Tallied an assist on Guy Carbonneau's overtime goal in Game Three vs. the Isles...Only goal of the post season came in Game Three of Stanley Cup Final vs. Los Angeles (Kelly Hrudey)...Finished second on the team in penalty minutes in 1991-92...Was sixth on the Habs, first among defensemen in scoring in 1990-91 postseason as Montreal lost in the seventh game of Adams Division Final vs. Boston.

MILESTONES

NHL debut Oct. 8, 1987 at Philadelphia
First goal Jan. 7, 1990 vs. Vancouver (Kirk McLean)
300th NHL game January 24, 1994 at Florida
200th NHL point (assist) April 7, 1995 at the Rangers

PERSONAL: Married. Wife, Evon. Son, Jared. Spent summer in California working out with personal trainer. Hosted a golf tournament in June to benefit the Children's Wish Foundation. Participated in photo shoot this past summer for Mademoiselle magazine.

JUNIOR CAREER: Named to the OHL First All-Star team in 1987-88 and 1988-89, future Montreal teammate Bryan Fogarty was the other defenseman chosen that season...Finished fifth on the Royals in scoring in 1988-89...Was teammate that year of Owen Nolan and Rick Tabaracci.

CAREER TRANSACTION: Selected by the Islanders in the second round (38th overall) of the 1986 Entry Draft.

1994-95: Only player to appear in each of team's first 41 games...Suffered broken left ankle Apr. 18 vs. Quebec and missed the rest of the season...Was enjoying one of his best seasons prior to the injury...Equalled career high in assists and finished just one point shy of career best in points...Was second on the team among defensemen in scoring (Scott Lachance)...Only goal of the season started Isles comeback from 5-2 deficit in eventual 5-5 tie Mar. 26 vs. New Jersey (Chris Terreri)...Shared blueline duties with Darius Kasparaitis and Bob Beers...Split scoring between home (1-6-7, 21 GP) and road (0-5-5, 20 GP) arenas.

CAREER
1993-94: A classic stay-at-home defenseman...A perfect complement to offensive minded partner Vladimir Malakhov...Did not dress for six games early in the season but became a mainstay on the Islander blueline in mid-November and only games missed the rest of the season were due to injury...Finished third on the team in plus/minus at +21...Tallied assists in three straight games (Nov. 18-24), the longest scoring streak of career...Suffered broken right foot at Pittsburgh Dec. 19 and was forced to miss the next 13 games.
1992-93: Was called up from the Capital District Islanders Jan. 16 when injuries forced Malakhov and Rich Pilon out of the lineup...Earned spot on roster with hard hitting and smart positional play...All points were scored at Nassau Coliseum...Finished the season +9, fifth on the team...Had seven points in first 10 games at CDI.
1991-92: Was called up Oct. 17 after starting season with CDI and played in two games...Returned to Long Island Dec. 29 when injuries forced Ken Baumgartner, Uwe Krupp and Wayne McBean out of the lineup and remained with the team for the rest of the season...Was invited to play for Team USA at the World Championships in Prague, Czechoslovakia...Only goal at CDI was a power play score and six assists were with a man advantage.
1990-91: First professional season...Played most of the season with CDI...Was called up in late March and played in last five games of the season...Was third on CDI among defensemen in scoring behind Jeff Finley and Jari Gronstrand.

1994-95: Led team in penalty minutes for fourth consecutive year and fifth time in six years...Drew fighting majors after going at it with New Jersey's Mike Peluso in both ends of a home and home series Feb. 17-18 and in third meeting of the season Mar. 26. Fought Buffalo's Rob Ray Mar. 16 and Apr. 1. Has gone toe to toe with these two players seven times apiece, more than any others in his eight-year career...Missed first two games of the season due to a suspension for an incident in Game Four of 1993-94 Eastern Conference Quarter-Finals vs. the Rangers...Was in and out of the lineup over the next eight games but dressed for every game from Feb. 11 on.

CAREER
1993-94: A key ingredient in the lockerroom...Isles went 2-6-2 when he was forced out of the lineup due to a 10-game suspension for leaving the bench to join an altercation Jan. 4 at New Jersey and posted a 4-1-1 record upon his return to the ice...Had the game's first goal in 2-1 victory vs. Tampa Bay Feb. 15 (Daren Puppa) and earned second star of the game that night. It was his first goal at Nassau Coliseum since Nov. 6, 1990 vs. Toronto (Peter Ing), a span of 125 home contests...Fighting major against Philadelphia's Claude Boivin Dec. 11 gave him 1,486 career PIM, breaking Garry Howatt's all-time Islander mark (1,466)...Missed two games (Oct. 26-28) with a bruised left hand.
1992-93: Finished first on the team in penalty minutes...Recorded first goal in 100 games Oct. 15 (Dominic Roussel) at Philadelphia, the Islanders' first win of the season...Missed first two games of the season with an injured shoulder.
1991-92: Led team in penalty minutes (293)...Had five or more penalty minutes in 30 games and had eight games with 10 or more including 20 at the Rangers Feb. 14 and 32 at Washington Mar. 15.
1990-91: Missed first six games of the season serving remainder of 10-game suspension incurred during the 1990 PDSF vs. the Rangers ...Finished second on the team in penalty minutes behind Ken Baumgartner's 282...Reached double figures in penalty minutes in games six times.
1989-90: Led the team in penalty minutes and finished 10th in the league in that category...Scored natural hat trick Oct. 20 in Washington (Don Beaupre), a 5-3 Islander victory...Tied Patrick Flatley for third on the team in plus/minus with a +10.
1988-89: One of 13 rookies to wear an Islander uniform...Placed second on the team in penalty minutes behind Rich Pilon (242)...Accumulated double figures in penalty minutes eight times, with 68 PIM coming in the last seven games of the season...Caught fans' attention quickly as 149 penalty minutes came at Nassau Coliseum.
1987-88: Was suspended for six games by the AHL for returning from lockerroom to fight Nov. 20.

STANLEY CUP PLAYOFF CAREER: Led the team in penalty minutes in 1994 Eastern Conference Quarterfinals vs. the Rangers...Played in first 15 Islanders playoff games in 1993...Finished fifth on the team in penalty minutes...Was assessed ten-game suspension for fighting in Game One of PDSF vs. the Rangers in 1990 and appeared in one contest of the five-game series...Finished tied for second on the team in penalty minutes in 1988 (with Bob Bassen and behind Gerald Diduck) despite playing in only two of the team's six contests.

JUNIORS
Led Kelowna Wings in 1984-85 and the Spokane Chiefs in 1986-87 in penalty minutes.

THE NEW YORK ISLANDERS' BOOSTER CLUB

Formed during the Islanders first season, the New York Islanders' Booster Club (NYIBC) has grown as strong as the team it supports. With a growing membership of over 600, the NYIBC is one of the largest fan clubs in the National Hockey League.

The NYIBC publishes a monthly letter "Center Ice", and it also holds monthly meetings throughout the season. A highlight to the monthly gathering is its guest speaker program featuring an official from either the New York Islanders or the National Hockey League.

Other features afforded to NYIBC members are its annual dinner dance, which is attended by all Islander players, excursions to other NHL cities, as well as several fund raising activities to support local charities.

The only requirement for membership in the NYIBC is a love for the sport of hockey. Although most club members reside on Long Island, some live as far away as California, western Canada and Great Britain. For more information regarding the New York Islanders' booster Club, please write to: NYIBC, P.O. Box, Carle Place, NY, 11514

How Chemical helped Penn-Plax Inc. turn goldfish into a gold mine.

Tom Seaver's Business Hall of Fame

Anita Goldman, CFO, Penn-Plax Inc., with sons Terry and Rick Goldman.

When Anita Goldman, her [illegible] Roz, and her brother-in-law [illegible] Rosen opened a fish and [illegible] shop in Brooklyn in the [illegible] fifties, they had no idea of [illegible] treasure they were about to [illegible] over under the sea.

Before long, Anita's husband Marvin was developing [illegible] aquarium ornaments and accessories with his [illegible] Jerry. Their products quickly dazzled not only the [illegible]'s customers, but also their colleagues in the pet [illegible] trade.

And with wholesale orders coming in faster than they [illegible] fill them, the family created Penn-Plax Inc. in 1959. [illegible]day, Penn-Plax is one of the world's leading [illegible]facturers of fish and pet products – with sons [illegible] and Rick Goldman playing a leading role in the [illegible]pany's success.

And thanks to its best-selling S.A.M. (Small Animal Modules) and beginner aquariums featuring some of America's favorite cartoon characters, Penn-Plax is making a big splash in toy stores and mass markets as well.

But for all their dramatic growth over the years, one thing is exactly the same: their bank.

So when the Goldmans required capital for European distribution, Chemical was there for them. Just like always.

It's all part of Chemical's enduring commitment to growing businesses and the people who own them – a commitment that's made their relationship managers #1 in business house calls, and made Chemical the leading bank for business in the tri-state area.

The Goldmans know what it means to aim for the top. That's why they're in Tom Seaver's Business Hall of Fame.

Because to make it in this town, you gotta have a dream. And you gotta have a bank that shares it."

BUTCH GORING

Former Islander great Butch Goring was named Vice-President Hockey Operations and Head Coach of the Grizzlies May 9, 1994.

Goring's coaching career began in 1981 as a playing assistant with the Islanders. He was named head coach of the Boston Bruins May 6, 1985 and held the position until November 5, 1986. In that span, he led the Bruins to a 42-38-13 record. After a stint with the Spokane Chiefs of the Western Hockey League, Goring returned to the professional ranks to coach the Capital District Islanders for three seasons (1990-93). Last season, he led the Las Vegas Thunder of the IHL to a 52-18-11 mark, tops in the league.

As a player, Goring spent 16 seasons in the NHL with the Kings, Islanders and Bruins. He was a part of the Islander dynasty, joining the Isles' at the trading deadline in March 1980, proving to be the final piece in the Islanders' championship formula. In 1981, he was awarded the Conn Smythe Trophy as MVP of the playoffs. He also won the Lady Byng Trophy with the Kings in 1978. Goring appeared in 1107 NHL games, going 375-513-889 with 102 PIM. As an Islander, he played in 332 contests and was 87-108-195 with 30 penalty minutes. He also recorded 18 shorthanded goals with the Isles, one shy of Anders Kallur's team record.

Butch and his wife, Cathy, have two daughters, Shannon and Kelly.

KEVIN CHEVELDAYOFF

The Islanders' first round selection in 1988, Kevin Cheveldayoff returns for his second season behind the Grizzlies' bench after retiring as an active player during the summer of 1994.

Cheveldayoff played just over four seasons in the Islander system, with Springfield in 1989-90, Capital District from 1990-93 and Salt Lake in 1993-94. A hard-hitting, rugged defenseman, he played his junior hockey with Brandon of the WHL, his work ethic and leadership skills helping him become the 16th player chosen in 1988.

Cheveldayoff is working on his business degree by correspondence. He and his wife, Janet, return to Canada in the summer.

JIM ROBERTS

A veteran of the professional coaching ranks, Jim Roberts will be at the helm of the Worcester IceCats for the second straight season.

Roberts, 55, has been a head coach at both the NHL and AHL level. His post-playing career began as an assistant coach with the Buffalo Sabres, where he spent five seasons, including a stint as an interim head coach, going 21-16-8. In 1983, the Toronto native became an assistant to Bob Berry in Pittsburgh before becoming the head coach of the AHL's Springfield Indians in 1989. He led the Indians to consecutive Calder Cups in 1990 (when the Indians were an Islander affiliate) and 1991 (when Springfield was affiliated with Hartford). The Whalers made him their head coach in 1991 and he led Hartford to a playoff spot that season. Following two years away from coaching, Roberts became Worcester's first-ever head coach in 1994.

As a player, Roberts spent his career with Montreal and St. Louis, earning five Stanley Cup rings with Montreal and appearing in three other Stanley Cup Finals with both the Canadiens and Blues. A veteran of 15 NHL seasons from 1963-78, he went 126-194-320 with 621 penalty minutes in 1,006 games.

Jim and his wife, Judy, have two daughters, Vicki and Corri.

MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIALS: Season passes will be issued to those members of the media covering the team on a regular basis. All others will be issued single game passes. For single-game access please contact the Media Relations Department at least 24 hours in advance of each game. The initial request, to be kept on file, must be made on the organization's letterhead. Freelance reporters and photographers may be granted credentials with a letter of assignment from the medium for which they're working. Separate application is required for the Stanley Cup Playoffs.

PARKING: Media members regularly assigned to cover the team will receive parking decals and all others will be put on each game's parking list which is left at the entrance to the press parking lot.

PRESS ENTRANCE: The press entrance is located at Gate 1 on the west side of Nassau Coliseum. An Islanders' game night representative will distribute credentials.

PRESS BOX: Take the elevator opposite Gate 16 to the second floor, stay to the right and follow corridor past luxury suites to the press box. An Islanders game night representative will escort you to your seat. Press box seats are reserved for accredited members of the media, visiting team representatives and scouts only.

DINING AREA: Take the stairwell just inside of the press box door. Press lounge and restrooms are on the right.

WORK ROOM: Take the stairwell just inside of the press box door. Work room is down the corridor on the left.

PHONES: See Islander game night representative behind the drink counter in the press lounge area to sign out a phone.

VIDEO REPLAY: An Islander game night representative tapes each game and logs goals and penalties. Replays are shown upon request. The VCR is located in the work room.

LOCKER ROOMS: Both locker rooms are located at ice level on the opposite side of the building from the press box. To avoid a post game logjam in the room media members are requested to leave as soon as work is finished.

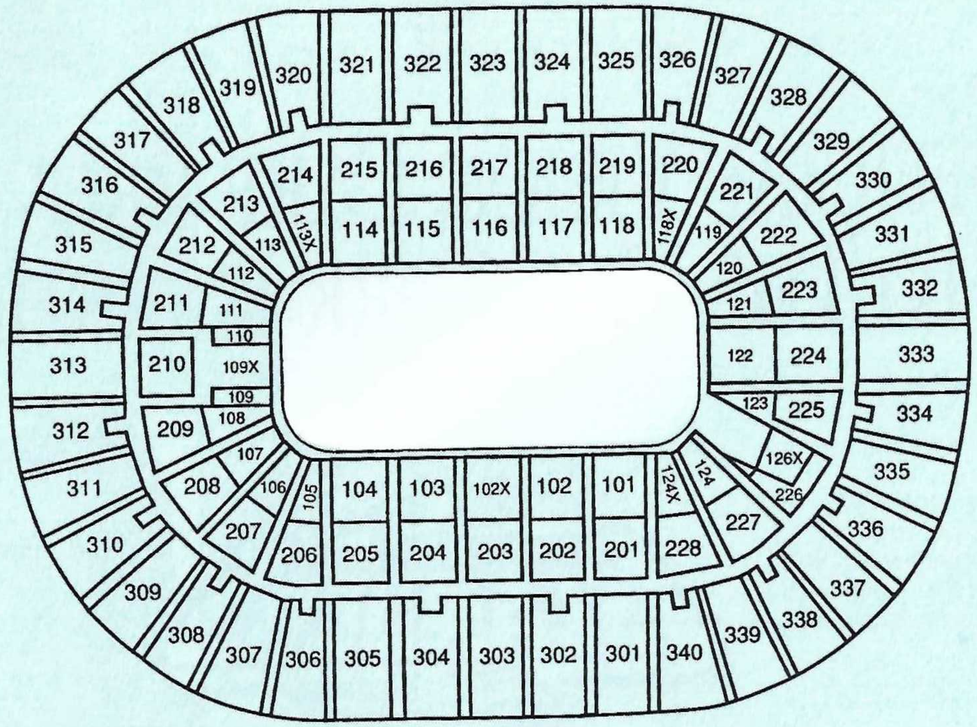
PRE-GAME ACCESS: Islanders will be available up until 90 minutes before game time in the corridor outside of the dressing room. An Islander representative will be there to assist you.

PRACTICE: The Islanders split their practice time between Nassau Coliseum and the Long Island Skating Academy in Syosset. The schedule is subject to change. Media members are urged to call the Media Relations Department each day to confirm site and time. Practices at Nassau Coliseum are closed to the public.

DIRECTIONS TO LONG ISLAND SKATING ACADEMY

From the Long Island Expressway take Exit 40E/Jericho Turnpike. Stay to the left and head East on Jericho for about 2.5 miles. Make left onto Underhill Blvd. (Syosset Tennis Academy and a Merit Gas Station will be on your right). Rink is about half a mile down on the right.

SEATING CHART



ARENA INFORMATION

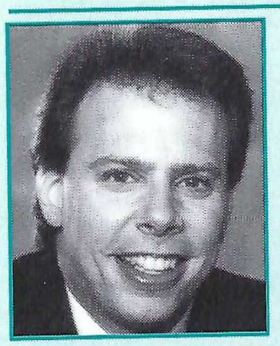
TELEVISION



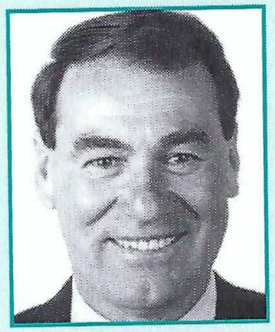
Howie Rose - Play-by-Play

Howie Rose joins the Islander broadcast crew for his first season as the team's television play-by-play voice.

A native of Bayside, Rose comes to the Islanders following a six year stint as the radio voice of the New York Rangers on WFAN. In addition to his duties with the Rangers, he hosted "Mets Extra" and his own nightly talk show on New York's all-sports station. He called the 1993 and '94 NHL All-Star Game and the 1993 Stanley Cup Finals for the NHL Radio Network.

Rose has been a fixture on the New York radio sports scene dating to 1977 when he left Sportsphone to become Sports Director for WHN. He also spent time with WCBS Radio and NBC Network Radio before joining the FAN in 1987.

The graduate of Cardozo High School and Queens College resides with wife Barbara and daughters Alyssa (6) and Chelsea (2) in Jericho.

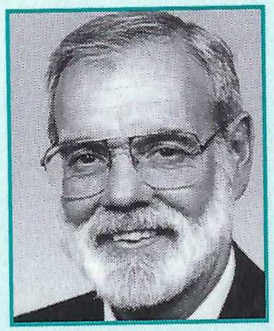


Ed Westfall - Color Commentator

An original Islander, Ed Westfall enters his 17th season as part of the Islander broadcast team.

Westfall was selected by the Isles in the 1972 expansion draft, was the squad's first captain, and scored the first regular season goal in Islander history. He began his playing career in 1961 with the Boston Bruins, where he won Stanley Cups in 1970 and 1972. In 18 NHL seasons, he recorded 625 points in 1227 games. Westfall received the NHL's Bill Masterton Trophy for "Sportsmanship and dedication to hockey" in 1977.

A native of Belleville, Ontario, "18" lives in Locust Valley with his wife Polly.



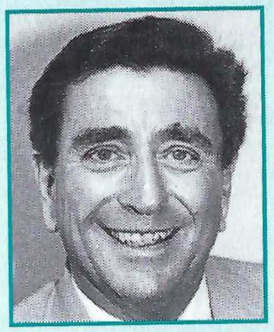
Stan Fischler - Pre and Post-Game Shows

Stan Fischler returns for his 20th season as an Islanders broadcaster. As host of the pre- and post-game shows and between period intermissions, his interviews and commentary provide viewers with an insightful view of the sport and its participants.

Off the air, Fischler is one of the most recognized hockey writers in North America. He has written more than sixty hockey books and is a regular columnist for The Hockey News, The Village Voice and The Toronto Star Syndicate's chain in Canada. Fischler has also authored articles for almost every major magazine in the U.S.

Fischler resides in Manhattan with his wife Shirley, also an author, and sons Ben and Simon.

RADIO

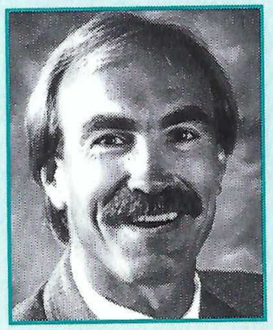


Barry Landers - Play-by-Play

For the 15th straight season, Barry Landers will be behind the microphone for his 15th season as the radio voice of the Islanders.

A native New Yorker, Landers began his radio career with WGLI in Hempstead, calling games for the Long Island Ducks of the Eastern League in the late 1960's while doubling as the team's publicist. He is also currently the voice for Hofstra football and MAAC basketball on Sportschannel. A graduate of City College in New York, Landers received his Masters Degree at Ohio State.

Landers now lives in Dix Hills with his wife Susan, sons Douglas and Gregory and daughter Jillian.



Bob Nystrom - Color Commentator

One of the most popular Islanders ever, Bob Nystrom enters his eighth season as the color commentator for Islanders' radio broadcasts, working home games and selected road contests. He is also the Isles' Director of Amateur Hockey Development and Alumni Relations.

Nystrom will forever be remembered for scoring the Stanley Cup-winning goal in Game Six of the 1980 Finals against Philadelphia. An original Islander, he played 14 seasons, scoring 513 points in 900 career games while winning four Stanley Cups. He moved into the Isles' front office after two seasons as an assistant coach from 1986-88.

MEDICAL GLOSSARY

AC Joint—Accromioclavicular joint; joint of the shoulder where acromion process of the scapula and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.
Abrasion—Any injury whichs rubs off the surface of the skin.
Aerobic—Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen inspired and is required or sustained period of vigorous exercise with a continually high pulse rate.
Anaerobic—Exercise without use of oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of rigorous exercise.
Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL)—A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint. A complete tear of the ACL necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.
Anterior Talofibular Ligament—A ligament of the ankle that connects the fibula (lateral ankle bone) to the talus. This ligament is oft times subject to sprain.
Anti-inflammatory—Any agent which prevents inflammation, such as aspirin of ibuprofen.
Anteriogram—A film demonstrating arteries after injection of a dye.
Arthrogram—X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected into the affected area; useful in diagnosing meniscus tears of the knee and rotator cuff tears of the shoulder.
Arthroscope—An instrument used to visualize the interior of a joint cavity.
Arthroscopy—A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by means for viewing through an arthroscpe. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of any damage or confirm a diagnosis.
Avascular Necrosis—Death of a part due to lack of circulation.
Avulsion—The tearing away, forcibly, of a part or structure.
Bone Scan—An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labeled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bony injury. If the radioactive substance is taken up the bone at the injury site, the injury will show up as a "hot spot" on the scan image. The bone scan is particularly useful in the diagnosis of stress fractures.
Brachial Plexus—Network of nerves originating from the cervical vertebrae and running down to the shoulder, arm, hand and fingers.
Bruise—A discoloration of the skin due to an extravasation of blood into the underlying tissues.
Bursa—A fluid-filled sac that is located in areas where friction is likely to occur, then minimizes the friction; for example between a tendon and bone.
Capsule—An enclosing structure which surrounds the joint and contains ligaments which stabilize that joint.
Cartilage—Smooth, slippery substance preventing two ends of the bone from rubbing together and grating.
CAT Scan—Use of a computer to produce a cross sectional view of the nanatomical part being investigated by X-ray data.
Cellulitis—Inflammation of cellular or connective tissue.
Cervical Vertebrae—Group of seven vertebrae located in the neck.
Charley Horse—A contusion or bruise to any muscle resulting in intramuscular bleeding. No other injury should be called a charley horse.
Concussion—Jarring injury of the brain resulting in a dysfunction. It can be graded as mild, moderate or severe depending on loss of conciousness, amnesia and loss of equilibrium.
Contusion—An injury to a muscle and tissues caused by a blow from a blunt object.
Cyst—Abnormal sac containing liquid or semi-solid matter.
Degenerative Joint Disease—Changes in the joint surfaces as a result of repetitive trauma.
Deltoid Ligament—Liagment that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot and is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side. Is sprained less frequently than other ankle ligaments.
Deltoid Muscle—Muscles at the top of the arm, just below the shoulder, responsible for shoulder motions to the front, side and back.
Disc, Interverebral—A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. The disc consists of a thick fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It finctions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.
Dislocation—Complete displacement of the joint surfaces.
Eccymosis—Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin, resulting in a "black and blue" effect.
Edema—Accumulation of fluid in organs and tissues of the body; swelling.
Effusion—Accumulation of fluid, in various spaces in the body, or the knee itself. Commonly, the knee has an effusion after an injury.
Electrical Galvanic Stimulation (EGS)—An electrical therapeutic modality that sends a surrent to the body at select voltages and frequencies in order to stimulate pain receptors, disperse edema, or neutralize muscle spasms among other functional applications.
Epicondylitis—Inflammation in the elbow due to overuse.
Ethyl Chloride—"Cold spray," a chemical coolant sprayed onto an injury site to produce a local, mild anesthesia.
Femur—Thigh bone; longest bone in the body.
Fibula—Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; runs from knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.
Fracture—Breach in the continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick, incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblqique, stress or transverse.
Grade One Injury—A mild injury in which ligament, tendon, or other musculoskeletal tissue may have been stretched or contused, but not torn or otherwise disrupted.
Grade Two Injury—A moderate injury when musculoskeletal tissue has been partialy, but not totally, torn which causes appreciable limitation in function of the injured tissue.
Grade Three Injury—A severe injury in which tissue has been significantly, and in some cases totally, torn or otherwise disrupted causing a virtual total loss of function.
Hamstring—Category of muscle that runs from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. It functions to flex the knee, and is oft times injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of muscle flexibility.
Hematoma—Tumor-like mass produced by an accumulation of coagulated blood in a cavity.
Humerus—Bone of the upper arm that runs from the shoulder to the elbow.
Hyperextensions—Extreme extension of a limb or body part.
Inflammation—The body's natural response to injury in which the injury site might display various degrees of pain, sweating, heat, redness, and/or loss of function.
Internal Rotation—Rotation of a joint or extremity medially, to the inside.
Lesion—Wound, injury or tumor.
Ligament—Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.
Lumbar Vertebrae—Five vertebrae of the lower back that articulate with the sacrum to form the lumbosacral joint.

MEDICAL GLOSSARY

Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI)—Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react to this pules and through this process a computer display and permanent film establish a visual image. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc, and meniscus injuries.
Meniscus—Crescent shaped cartilage, usually pertaining to the knee joint; also known as "cartilage". There are two menisci in the knee, medial and lateral. These work to absorb weight the knee and provide stability.
Metacarpals—Five long bones of the hand, running from the wrist to the fingers.
Metatarsals—Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.
Myosistis—Inflammation of a muscle.
Neuritis—Inflammation of a nerve.
Parasthesia—Sensation of numbness or tingling, indicating nerve irritation.
Patella—The kneecap. The patella functions to protect the distal end of the femur as well as increase the mechanical advantage and force generating capacities of the quadriceps muscle group.
Patella Tendinitis—Inflammation of the patella ligament; also known as "jumpers knee".
Patellofemoral Joint—Articulation of the kneecap and femur. Inflammation of this joint can occur through: 1) actue injury to the patella, 2) overuse from excessive running particularly if there is an associated knee weakness, 3) chronic wear and tear of the knee, 4) as a result of poor foot mechanics. Patellofemoral irritation can lead to chondromalancia, which in its most chronic condition could require surgery.
Peroneal Muscles—Group of muscles of the lateral lower leg that are responsible for everting the knee. Tendons of these three muscles are vital to the stability of the ankle and foot.
Phalanx—Any bone of the fingers or toes; plural is phalanges.
Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL)—A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that provides significant stability and prevents displacement of the tibia backward within the knee joint. A complete tear of this ligament necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.
Quadricep Muscles "Quads"—A group of four muscles of the front thigh that run from the hip and form a commen tendon at the patella; they are responsible for knee extension.
Radius—Forearm bone of the thumb side.

Reconstruction—Surgical rebuilding of a joint using natural, artificial or transplanted materals.
Rotator Cuff—Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area that can be irritated by overuse. The muscles are the supraspinatus (most commonly injured), infra-spinaturs, teres minor, and subscapularis.
Rotator Cuff Impingement Syndrome—A microtrauma or overuse injury caused by stress, and the four stages are: 1) Tendenitous with temporary thickening of the bursa dn rotator cuff; 2) Fiber dissociation in the tendon with permanent thickening of the bursa and scar formation; 3) A partial rotator cuff tear of less that 1cm; and 4) A complete tear of 1cm. or more.
Sacrum—Group of five fused vertebrae located just below the lumbar vertebrae of the low back.
Scapula—Shoulder blade.
Sciatica—Irritation of the sciatic nerve resulting in pain of tingling running down the inside of the leg.
Sciatic Nerve—Major nerve that carries impulses for muscular action and sensations between the low back and thigh and lower leg; it is the longest nerve in the body.
Shin Splint—A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the shin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.
Spasm(Theory)—Muscle soreness induced by exercise; is the result of reduced muscle blood flow, which results in pain.
Spondylosis—Inflammation of one or more vertebrae.
Sprain—injury resulting from a stretch or twist of the joint and causes various degrees of stretch or tear of a ligament or other soft tissue at the joint.
Sternum—The breast bone.
Strain—Injury resulting from a pull or torsion to the muscle or tendon that causes various degrees of stretch or tear to the muscle or tendon tissue.
Stress Fracture—A hair-line type of break in a bone caused by overuse.
Subluxation—Partial dislocation of a joint. The term usually implies that the joint can return to its normal position without formal reduction.
Talus—The ankle bone that articulates with the tibia and fibula to form the ankle joint.
Tarsals—Group of seven bones of the foot consisting of the calnavicular, talus, cuboid and three cunelform bones.
Temporomandibular Joint (TMJ)—The articulation of the jaw and skull; considered by some to be vital resolution of injuries throughout the body.
Tendinitis—Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, caused by chronic overuse of sudden injury.
Tendon—Tissue that connects muscle to bone.
Thoracic—Group of twelve vertebrae located in the thorax and articulate with the twelve ribs.
Tibia—Larger of the two bones of the lower leg and is the weight-bearing bone of the shin.
Trachea—The windpipe.
Trascutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimultor (TENS)—An electrical modality that sends a mild current through pads at the injury site which stimulates the brain to release the natural analgesic, endorphin.
Transverse Process—Small lateral projection off the right side and left side of each vertebrae that functions as an attachment site for muscles and ligaments of the spine.
Trapezius—Flat triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.
Triceps—Muscle of the back of the upper arm, primarily responisble for extending the elbow.
Ulna—Forearm bone that runs from the tip of the elbow to the little finger side of the wrist.
Ulnar Nerve—Nerve in elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing.
Valgus—Angulation outward and away from the midline of the body.
"Wind Knocked Out"—Syndrome describing a contraction of the abdominal nerve truck, the solar plexus, as a result of an abdominal contusion.
Wrist—The junction between the two forearm bones (radius and ulna) and the eight wrist bones (trapezium, trapezoid, capitate, hamate, pisiform, triquetral, lunate and scaphoid).
Zygoma—The cheekbone.
